People's Canopy

Shinya Sato

Architecture & Art

A canopy is a tent-like structure that can be set up in various places to provide shade and shelter. It is often used in public spaces to create a welcoming atmosphere and encourage people to spend more time outdoors. Canopies can be made from a variety of materials, including canvas, plastic, and metal. They are commonly used in parks, plazas, and other public spaces to provide protection from the sun and rain. Canopies can also be used as a decorative element in gardens and other outdoor settings. Overall, canopies are a practical and versatile addition to any outdoor environment.